Who We Are

Since 1982, the Food Bank of Western Massachusetts has been a community partner to end hunger. We provide healthy and culturally responsive food directly through our Mobile Food Bank and Brown Bag: Food for Elders sites and through the 169+-member food assistance network in Berkshire, Franklin, Hampden, and Hampshire counties. These independent pantries, meal sites, and shelters are on the front lines, providing food and other resources to individuals, families, seniors, children, and people with disabilities, including veterans, so they may lead healthy and meaningful lives. The Food Bank partners on public education and advocacy to eliminate systemic barriers to food security, operating with the belief that everyone has a right to healthy food.
Where We Source Our Food

The Food Bank is the regional distributor of USDA commodities. We also receive food from the Massachusetts Emergency Food Assistance Program (MEFAP). In addition to distributing food, we work with the community to develop strategies to reduce the number of people in our area who must rely on food assistance.

The Food Bank also:

- rescues food that would otherwise go to waste
- solicits food donations from a variety of sources
- uses donated funds to acquire large quantities of food for distribution

How We Fund Our Work

The Food Bank receives food and fund donations from individuals, businesses, foundations, civic organizations, faith-based groups, member agencies, schools, and government. We also rely on the generosity of professionals who donate valuable pro bono assistance of services and supplies and sponsorships for special events.

How We Partner with the Community

The Food Bank partners with the community to create a Western Massachusetts where no one faces food insecurity and everyone can access nutritious food. Some of our initiatives include:

- Brown Bag: Food for Elders — delivering free bags of groceries once a month to seniors at numerous sites across the region
- Mobile Food Bank — delivering fresh, nutritious food directly to underserved populations
- Agency Relations — working with food pantries and meal sites (the Food Assistance Network) to better service people seeking assistance through training, capacity-building support, and sharing of best practices
- Nutrition Education — providing workshops on essential nutrition and eating healthy on a budget
- SNAP & Food Referral Assistance — providing enrollment and application assistance to eligible clients
- Food Insecurity Screening Referral Initiative (FISRI) - partnering with the healthcare community to access the need for food assistance and other wrap-around services
- Advocacy — partnering with policymakers and the community to confront the underlying causes of hunger
